

New York State has made available an "eligibility checker" website for individuals to see if they are eligible to receive the COVID-19 vaccine. If determined they qualify, the website will inform them where to make an appointment. People aged 75 and older will be part of the 1b priority group.

The "eligibility checker" is currently available to determine eligibility status.

Monday, January 11, 2021 is the first day to schedule an appointment. The appointment date could be delayed by several months.
